The first screen you see after a successful web access

A login screen mockup with a light gray background. At the top center is the word "Login" in a blue, sans-serif font. Below it are two white input fields with rounded corners and thin gray borders. The first field is labeled "username" in a small, gray, sans-serif font. The second field is labeled "password" in the same font. Below the password field is a blue square button with rounded corners, containing a white icon of a square with an arrow pointing out to the right. Below the button is a horizontal line, and underneath the line is the word "register" in a blue, sans-serif font.

I did not find the registration model, so I will briefly explain it here: The functions are as follows: 1. Login Enter user name and password

2. Register Create user name and password normally for normal users.

If you want to register as an administrator, you need to enter a six-digit key.
